

COAL CARDS MUST BE FILLED OUT

Purchasers of the Black Diamonds Must Sign Card Stating Amount Desired and How Much They Have on Hand—Rule to be Rigidly Enforced.

Coal cards are now being used in Ulster county and all coal dealers in this city and throughout the county have a supply of these cards. Every purchaser of coal must fill out and sign one of these cards before he or she can get any coal from the dealer. The coal card plan is working successfully in other places and is a big step in the interests of coal conservation, as it prevents any one from storing up a supply of coal when other persons have no coal at all.

With but a few exceptions, people here are taking the coal card plan good naturedly, realizing that it is necessary to put the distribution of coal upon a systematic basis.

Form of the Coal Card.

The following is the form of the coal card to be filled out by the person purchasing the coal:

Name of Dealer
City
Date
In accordance with the order of the U. S. Fuel Administration in New York, purchasers are required to make true declaration in answer to the following questions:

- 1.—Amount of coal desired.
- 2.—Purpose for which it is to be used.
- 3.—Approximate amount used last year.
- 4.—Pounds or tons on hand at present.
- 5.—Will last approximately.
- 6.—Have you any unfilled orders with other dealers?

I hereby certify that the above report is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Name
Address

Order Will Be Enforced.

The following letter, received by the county fuel administrator, explains itself:

"To all County Fuel Administrators:

"Below is a copy of a telegram sent to one of our county administrators regarding the use of Form D.

"Very sorry am unable to comply with your request to eliminate the use of Form D in your county. We are insisting on all county administrators seeing to it that dealers before selling a pound of coal, either hard or soft, for domestic or other purposes, have this form filled out and satisfy themselves that statements contained thereon are true.

"County administrators should hold the dealers strictly accountable for furnishing coal to persons who now have more than the local average supply on hand. Coal dealers should bring to your attention cases of requests of delivery of coal where a considerable stock is now on hand, and if you discover that coal has been delivered under false statements made on Form D you should immediately prohibit any dealer delivering more coal in this case except on direct and specific orders from you.

"(Signed) ALBERT M. WIGGIN,
"New York State Fuel Administrator."

Dealers are Co-operating.

The coal dealers are co-operating with the fuel administrator. The coal card acts as a protection for the dealer as well as for the purchaser as it prevents the dealer from being imposed upon.

Some of the dealers, acting in good faith, have sold coal to persons who stated that they had but a very little bit of coal on hand, and the dealers discovered that these persons had a large quantity of coal in their bins.

This coal card form will eliminate this imposition upon the dealer, and it will also prevent any dealer from selling a large quantity of coal to some persons while other persons are trying to purchase just a small quantity.

Coal Situation Here.

The coal situation in this city and in Ulster county remains practically the same as it has for the last few days. There is certainly not an overabundance of the black diamonds, but there is enough coal on hand to meet the situation, providing all individuals, industries and business houses practice economy in the use of the coal.

Kingston has not been as hard hit as some of the other cities have been by the shortage of coal. There have been no cases of individual suffering here because of a want of coal. There have been a number of cases where families have been reduced to only a few hours' supply of coal, but these cases have been promptly taken care of.

Only one factory here shut down, and then only for a few days. This was due to the fact that this factory was getting its coal from an out of town firm and this firm suddenly shut down on the supply. The local dealers supplied this factory for a time, but discontinued doing this as they did not think that it was fair to their local customers.

General Co-operation Needed.

It should be reiterated that although there is no cause for a panic, that the coal situation is still serious, and if there is not general co-operation in the conserving of coal that Kingston will experience the same conditions that other cities are ex-

MORE THAN 1,500,000 MEN IN U. S. ARMY

Secretary Baker Gives Figures—Army Ready for Active Service—Miracles That Unpreparedness Demanded.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 10.—A "substantial" American army is in France and is "ready for active service," Secretary of War Baker told the Senate committee on military affairs this morning.

Behind this army in France are others training in this country, and more can be trained as fast as the first ones are moved overseas, he declared.

Arms of the modern and effective kind; artillery, machine guns, automatic rifles, and small arms, have been provided for every soldier in France, and "are available for every soldier who can be got to France in 1918," the secretary continued. So modern is some of the equipment, he said, that new factories had to be created. Great program for the production of additional material have been worked out.

He also revealed that we have 86,020 officers and men in the aviation section of the Signal Corps. Our military forces total 110,550 officers and 1,428,650 men, roughly six times what it was in the Spanish American War. Appropriations for the war department are nearly fifty times those of 1915, he said.

Secretary Baker told the committee he cited these vast activities to show the American people the "splendid effectiveness with which they have been able to organize the man power and material power," and the Germans that we have "actually brought the full power of men and resources against their military machine."

"By the co-operation of all interests and all people in the country the nation is now organized and set to its task with unanimity of spirit and confidence in its powers," said the secretary. "More has been done than anybody dared to believe possible. That there have been here and there errors of judgment and delays goes without saying, but I should be wanting in frankness were I to omit my own estimate of the real usefulness and intelligence with which my associates, military and civilian, have applied themselves to this undertaking, and the results demonstrate the success of their efforts."

The war secretary came strongly to the defense of the quartermaster general's department and the ordnance department, both of which had been severely criticised in the committee hearings for the "small like" pace they set in equipping and outfitting the armies of the United States.

"Here are two exceedingly significant figures," Secretary Baker said. "On the first day of April the Ordnance Department consisted of 87 officers and the quartermaster general's department of 341 officers, while they now respectively comprise 2,004 and 6,431 officers. There was no ready trained body of men in the country who could have been selected suddenly to assume the highly technical and specialized work of these two divisions. Men of somewhat similar training had to be chosen, and the nucleus of officers already in the corps had no only to carry forward the expanding operations of their departments, but be trainers and teachers of their new associates."

It was natural that some mistakes and delays should arise in carrying out the gigantic task set for his department, the secretary said. Everything considered the war department has done far better than even the most optimistic that in viewing through a microscope the small mistakes of the war machine, the committee have ever in mind the great achievements that have been effected.

In detailing the success with which his efforts had met, he had "one particular object," the secretary said. "General Pershing and our Allies are entitled to have the benefit resulting from the depression of the morale of their enemies which must come when the Germans realize that the American democracy has neither blundered nor hesitated."

"I make this statement," continued the secretary, "fully aware that there have been produced before the members of this committee some expressions of 'doubt,' difference of opinion, and disapproval. The war department has spent eight months hearing similar expressions, 'nattering' them, correcting the conditions out of which they grew, perfecting its organization to prevent their recurrence; and all the while driving on to the accomplishment of the main task."

"My military associates and I appreciate the work which this committee has done, and will value suggestions from the committee as a whole, from its individual members, and from every other patriotic citizen which will enable us to carry on this work more effectively and more rapidly."

perceiving because of a lack of foresight.

Heat should be turned off in all rooms not in use. Rooms that are in use should not be heated any more than is necessary to keep comfortably warm. Ashes should be sifted and every particle of coal that can be utilized, should be saved from the ashes. Burn as much wood as possible as a substitute for coal.

There are many ways in which the careful housekeeper can conserve coal, and in this conservation a real patriotic service is performed.

PRISON LABOR ON THE FARMS

Plan Has Worked Out Successfully in Many Places, But Is Hardly Feasible Here—Sheriff Smith Attended Prison Commission Conference at Albany.

Sheriff Smith attended the meeting of the state commission of prisons held at Albany Tuesday for the purpose of working out plans for the future utilization of prison labor for food production.

Sheriffs and officials from various points of the state were present and told of how the plan of having prisoners work on farms had worked out. In many institutions this plan has been a success. It has kept the prisoners in better health, given them something to occupy their minds, and helped very materially in food production.

In jails and institutions where there are always a large number of inmates the plan of having the inmates working on a farm can be put into practical execution. In county jails and in small institutions the plan is not as feasible.

In the larger institutions the plan has been found successful. The state in some cases has purchased a tract of land and the inmates of the institution have worked this land, sometimes sleeping and living right there. In most cases the state has made enough through this plan to make a fair profit over and above the actual expenses.

It is hardly thought that the plan would be feasible for the county jail here, because of the comparatively small number of inmates.

MAYOR CANFIELD AGAIN HONORED

Appointed a Member of the Legislative Committee of the Conference of Mayors and Other City Officials.

Mayor Canfield has been appointed a member of the general legislative committee of the Conference of Mayors of the State of New York. This is the most important committee of the cities' organization.

The committee's duties are to pass on all general legislation affecting the cities of the state, including all legislation brought by the conference. All bills drafted by any committee of the conference must be approved by this committee before introduction, and the attitude of the cities of the state on general municipal legislation, as expressed through the conference, cannot be announced until after this committee has acted.

Mayor Watt, the chairman of the committee, has called a meeting of the committee to be held at Albany on Friday afternoon, January 18, at 2:30 o'clock, at which time action will be taken on several important bills which have already been introduced.

LOCAL BILLS BY SENATOR WALTON

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Jan. 10.—Two bills were introduced last night by Senator Walton. One of the measures authorizes the town of Lexington, Greene county, to issue bonds to the amount of $7,000 to pay notes and certificates of indebtedness heretofore issued for the erection of bridges and the repair and improvement of highways.

The second measure amends subdivision 8, Section 23 of the County Law, by providing that the supervisors of Ulster county shall not receive from the county the $4 per day compensation as at present provided in the subdivision while actually engaged in any investigation or other duty lawfully committed to them by the board of supervisors.

The first of the union services that are to be held by the First Reformed Church, St. James's M. E. Church and the Fair Street Reformed Church will be held Sunday evening in St. James's M. E. Church. Primarily these union services will be held in the interests of coal conservation, but it is hoped that union services will also result in increased attendance and deeper interest in church work.

Deer Visits Ponckhockie.

Wednesday afternoon a deer was seen on the streets in Ponckhockie, and the unusual visitor attracted much attention. The deer later crossed over on the ice to Port Ewen. This is the first time in some time that a deer has visited the city and it was undoubtedly driven out of its usual haunts in search of food.

Hanrahan Was Drunk.

Thomas Hanrahan, 51 years old, of Stony Hollow, was picked up helplessly drunk on North Front street Wednesday evening by Officer Hess. This morning Judge Schurck gave Thomas three days in jail in order to get cleaned up.

IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

HAROLD R. COOPER.

Harold R. Cooper of Woodstock, N. Y. Enlisted in Poughkeepsie November 23, 1917, in Aviation Corps. He was stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., and later transferred to San Antonio, Texas.

Private Charles A. Van Etten of Company M, 51st Pioneer Infantry, came home Tuesday morning to spend a 15 day furlough and is confined to his bed by an attack of the grip. He is under the care of Dr. F. B. Quinlan.

A delegation from the Winners' Class of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church was at the West Shore station this morning to see Abram Van Aken, a member of the class, off. Before bidding him goodbye, they presented him with a fountain pen as a slight token of friendship. Mr. Van Aken thanked them for the gift. Mr. Van Aken was the only brick-layer from this city among the drafted men. He left for San Antonio, Texas, and expects to arrive there on Sunday.

Camp Dix, N. J., Jan. 7.—We are too busy to write many letters and appreciate the privilege of writing our friends through The Freeman. The Y. M. C. A. is home to us here. Men from the trenches tell us of France from their platforms. Many of our thoughts are of those at home, but not a boy from Old Ulster would come back until the war is done.

Had hot dogs for supper. Eat and eat and then we eat some more, but couldn't eat them all.

Trust that this finds you all as well and happy as it leaves the most of us, I wish to remain.

Your friend,
JESSE SHURTER.

VAN AKEN LEFT FOR SAN ANTONIO TODAY

Abram Van Aken left town this morning to become a member of the National Army at San Antonio, Texas, where he will be assigned to the Aviation Service Signal Corps as a bricklayer.

Van Aken reported at the office of the local board of Division No. 1 at the Ulster county surrogate's office at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when he was presented with a comfort kit by Mayor Canfield, on behalf of the Ulster County Red Cross and the Home Defense Committee.

This morning, he reported at the office of the local board, and accompanied by the local board and Mayor Canfield, was escorted to the West Shore station, where he embarked at 8:30 o'clock for Albany. From there he started for Buffalo on the New York Central, and is due to reach San Antonio on Sunday.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Jan. 10.—Assemblyman Joel Brink of Ulster county, has been designated by Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet to be a member of the following assembly committees: Agriculture, Education and Commerce and Navigation.

Viewed from a war standpoint, the committees of agriculture and commerce and navigation are two of the most important committees in the legislature.

Prayer Meeting at Parsonage.

The regular mid-week prayer service of the Fair Street Reformed Church will be held this evening at the home of the pastor, Rev. F. B. Seeler, 96 Maiden Lane, instead of in the church parlors, as has been the custom.

MAY BE CALLED FOR WAR WORK

Y. M. C. A. Directors to Give Physical Director Six Months' Leave of Absence if Needed in Army Camp—Boys' Work at "X."

The board of directors of the local Y. M. C. A. held a regular monthly meeting Wednesday at the association. At that time the board decided to grant Physical Director L. C. Godfrey a leave of absence not to exceed six months if he was called upon by the government for war work as physical director in one of the army camps. The leave of absence is to start April 1.

Boys' Work Secretary Hines submitted a very interesting report of the department. Among the things mentioned in his report was that the membership of that department December 1, was 138, and during that month 26 new members had been secured, making a total membership (the first of the year) of 164. The average attendance at the rooms during the month was 1,267. From Saturday, December 22, to the end of the Christmas holidays, a full program of games, socials, hikes, lectures and swimming meets had been held. There had been four meetings of Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts, with a total attendance of 71.

During the month five socials had been held with an attendance of 150. One educational lecture on Florida had been given with an attendance of 21.

Each Saturday at noon a group of street boys had been invited in and given the privilege of the gym, shower baths, swimming pools and game room. No charge had been made and 52 boys, who were not members of the department had availed themselves of this opportunity. The idea is to help boys who are unable to pay the membership fee. This work will be continued during the winter.

Bible classes had been held with B and C groups and the classes were taught by Messrs. Bulley, Godfrey and Hines.

Two Sunday afternoon meetings had been held with an attendance of 32.

The boys are still contributing to the Y. M. C. A. war fund. When the campaign was in progress 154 boys subscribed $10 each which they were to earn. Up-to-date about 20 of the boys have paid the full amount.

DAY OR RETURN PAY OR RETURN RED CROSS SEALS

Now that the rush of the Christmas season is over with, those in charge of the sale of the Red Cross Christmas Seals for the raising of funds for tuberculosis work, are making a special appeal for the closing up of the sale. Many persons who were sent seals have so far overlooked acknowledging them in any way, either by sending the money for them or returning the seals. All such persons are now asked to be as prompt as possible in returning either the money or the seals. Those in charge have to be accountable to the national organization for all seals received from the national headquarters, hence the importance of this return to them. Checks or money or seals should be sent at once to Dr. A. C. Gates, 574 Broadway, Kingston, as Dr. Gates is the authorized agent for Ulster county.

Where Seals Were Sold in the County.

All persons in the county who were in any way responsible for the sale of the Christmas seals this year, are also requested to send in their returns to Dr. Gates, without further delay, and without waiting for a written communication regarding the matter. If this is done, a considerable amount of extra postage, which is now three cents a letter, will be saved for the work.

Woman's Auxiliary Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. building. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected, and annual reports from officers and standing committees will be given. Plans for the work of the auxiliary the coming year will also be considered. All friends of the boys' work in this city, as being carried on at the Y. M. C. A., also all friends of the women who now make up the auxiliary, are urged, together with the members of the auxiliary to attend this meeting. In fact, if you have any curiosity about the Y. M. C. A. work in any form, attend the meeting and be enlightened. The executive committee of the auxiliary will act as the hostesses at the meeting.

The Car Skidded.

Chief Rodney A. Chipp, of the fire department, while driving his car up Broadway Tuesday afternoon, skidded into one of the large gas tanks in front of the Central Garage at St. James street, breaking it off at the ground and slightly damaging the chief's car. The ice and snow in the street caused the skidding. No one was injured.

Lately he has been at Camp Dix and his friends supposed he was still there until they received a letter from him on December 31 saying: "Have arrived safely in France."

PEACE RUMORS COME IN FLOCKS

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 10.—A veritable flood of sensational rumors having a common origin apparently in that they agreed the Teutonic Powers had asked a prominent neutral to intervene in the war descended on Washington this afternoon. Their source could not be ascertained and responsible officials greeted them askance and would not comment. One version was Sweden had been asked to mediate between the Entente Allies and the Central Powers, the United States not being mentioned. Another had it that Switzerland was the neutral approach, the negotiations and embassies, as well as the state department, were wholly without information, and there was a general inclination to discredit the reports.

HORSE RACING ON RONDOUT CREEK

The Kingston Horsemen's Association has completed its plans for the horse race to be held on the Rondout creek Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Some of the most noted jockeys in this section of the state are expected to participate in the event which will no doubt attract hundreds of prominent horsemen from Ulster and Delaware counties and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to witness this interesting race.

The course was marked out Wednesday afternoon, and all final arrangements made to insure one of the greatest gatherings of thoroughbred and horsemen ever held in this vicinity.

WAR AT A GLANCE

A report that Bulgaria has entered into a separate peace with Russia and that the pact has been signed at a secret meeting today. The report, which was entirely unofficial, originated in Bern, Switzerland, where it was printed in Der Bund.

The status of the negotiations between the Bolshevik envoys and the delegates of the Central Powers at Brest-Litovsk was not disclosed today at advices received in Petrograd indicated that the Germans had consented, at least provisionally, to the removal of the parity to neutral soil.

The German frontiers bordering on Holland and Switzerland have been closed for a month, indicating that the movement of German and perhaps Austro-Hungarian troops in the western front is again under way.

A captured German army officer as quoted in an interview printed in L'Express, of Paris, today, as saying that Germany will launch her long heralded offensive on the western front as soon as possible. The officer added that Germany is staking her last hope for a general victorious peace "with annexations and indemnities" upon this offensive, which will be her greatest effort in the war.

Inclement weather—with cold and snow—hindering operations in France and Italy, but commanding already reported from both fronts.

HOUSE CHEERS SUNDAY PRAYER

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Jan. 10.—For the first time in history, the house applauded and yelled today in greeting to a prayer. The prayer was "full of pep." It bounded in such phrases as "We thank you, O Lord, that we have never gone to bed hungry," "We thank Thee that we have never scraped the bottom of our flour barrel." It was delivered by the Rev. Billy Sunday.

Contrary to expectation, the evangelist did not pray for affirmative action on the suffrage bill, but sent winged shafts against the nation's enemies.

"Thou knowest, O Lord," he prayed, "that no nation so infamous, vile, greedy, sensual, bloodthirsty has ever disgraced the pages of history. Make bare Thy mighty arm, O Lord, and smite the hungry, wolfish, Hun, whose fangs drip with blood and we will forever raise our faces in Thy praise."

ROLL OF HONOR GROWS

Nothing in Talk About Ball Players Hanging Back.

Many Stars Have Enrolled Their Names and Departed for Training Quarters—List Given Is Worthy of Attention.

Desist from the talk about big league ball players hanging back from the fire, and dodging their duty in the trenches! That sort of stuff was first heard early last summer, when the boys didn't hurl themselves forward en masse and demand enlistment in a body. It doesn't go any more. Not for anyone who has kept track of the quiet fashion in which the players have been stepping up to the enrollment offices, getting their names upon the papers, and heading for the training camps. Count them up; take note of the number of players carried by big league teams, and then see what sort of dodgers these young fellows are!

The roll here offered is doubtless incomplete, for not a day passes without some player hurrying his name to headquarters. Moreover, lots of them have signed up with the colors at little, out-of-the-way hamlets, and it may be weeks before all the names are known. But the list, as it is, tells its own story, and deserves attention. Here's how the roll of honor stands:

National League.

Boston—Gowdy, Maranville, Schreber, Barnes, Rico.
Brooklyn—Cadore, Sherrod, Smith, Miljus, Pfeffer and probably Johnston.
Chicago—Mann, Schick.
Cincinnati—Kopf, Rath.
New York—Kelly, Anderson, Robertson, Baird, J. P. Jones.
Philadelphia—Rixey.
Pittsburgh—Warner, Carlson, Bligbee, Carmody.
St. Louis—Miller.

American League.

Athletics—Noyes, Bates, Sharman, Selbold, Naylor, Haley, Lawton Witt, Johnson, McInnis.
Boston—Barry, Lewis, Shore, McNally, Shorten, Gainer, Hohlitzel, Bentley.

JO LOOMIS ENLISTS AS PRIVATE IN ARTILLERY

Jo G. Loomis, Chicago Athletic Association athlete, who formerly was national champion in the sprint events and high jump, has enlisted in the Three Hundred and Thirty-third field artillery at Camp Grant.

Loomis returned to Chicago recently after completing a period of six months' service as driver of an ambulance in the Verdun sector.

The former sprinter weighed 155 pounds when he started for France. At his physical examination at Rockford, which he passed with flying colors, he tipped the scale as 178 pounds.

"If this war continues long enough, Jo," remarked one of his friends among the officers, "and you continue to gain weight, you will become a shotputter instead of a runner."

No Doubt About It.

Granting that it were possible for some one of us to acquire the earth with a fence around it, wouldn't that fellow be cheeky enough to demand that the fence be painted and repainted every six months or so?

In a letter received by Mrs. Alexander Smith from her husband who is in Miami, Florida, with Judge Alton B. Parker, Mr. Smith states that they arrived safely but fifteen hours late. The weather at present is very warm and pleasant. They are feasting upon all kinds of "summer" vegetables from the garden of the extensive farm owned by Judge Parker and on Sunday last enjoyed a long automobile ride at which time the weather was so extremely warm that they were obliged to remove their coats in order to be comfortable. But previous to their arrival there had been a different state of affairs. The thermometer had dropped low enough to permit of a frost which destroyed many of the tender plants such as egg plants, etc.

The green vines are pulled up and fed to the animals like grass. Mr. Smith is thoroughly enjoying his visit and we imagine he will have to wear his fur lined coat all the while when he returns to this climate.

LOCAL FIRE INSURANCE.

Kingston's fire loss of only $51,209 during 1917 is a matter for self-congratulation, but while extending and receiving such felicitations we should not become so imbued with self-satisfaction as to lose sight of the fact that our insurance rates still remain inordinately high. Some years ago the board of fire underwriters insisted that improvements should be made in order to give property owners better fire protection. What had happened to other cities that had failed to provide ample fire protection was pointed out and there was no misunderstanding the open threat to raise insurance rates unless the improvements were forthcoming. The water system was improved. Later an automatic fire alarm system was installed. Later the city purchased new fire apparatus. They partly paid fire department was created and since then the progress of improvement has been steady and rapid. Since the organization of the volunteer fire organizations has approved of whatever improvement was needed to bring the fire fighting force and apparatus up to date, until now there is no question that Kingston's department is responding to alarms promptly, performing efficient work and saving money to property owners and also to the insurance companies. Household and property owners have shown their willingness to co-operate in fire prevention, with the result that carelessness has caused but few fires. It is to the interest of the property owner to save his property from destruction, but it is likewise to the interest of the insurance companies whose purpose is to reimburse the property owner for his losses sustained by fire. They are organized for that purpose and they accept hundreds of thousands of dollars annually in fire insurance premiums.

Accompanying the threat of a raise in premium rates unless improvements were made in past years was a promise that rates would be lowered if the underwriters' demands for improvements were met. There has been no lowering of rates that the average policyholder can notice. The effect of unfulfilled obligations on the part of underwriters, their unkept promises necessarily must create in the minds of Kingstonians a doubt of intention at any time to lower rates, but in other cities where the club of threatened increased premium rates is being held over the heads of citizens there must arise not only a similar doubt but also a suspicion that the threat of increased rates is pure bluff. At a time when every property owner feels the need to economize, it is just as patriotic for every citizen to work for lower insurance rates for the individual as to work for the interests of the companies. The argument may be advanced that the companies are being required to pay surtaxes on their net income, and it would be unwise to ask lower rates now. The lowering of rates will reduce the amount of such surtaxes which the companies pay, and the lessened amount of taxes which the companies pay the government will be offset by the increased taxes to be paid by the individual who, at the same time, will be thus afforded an opportunity to see that the underwriters are truthful when promises are made. Confidence in promises is the foundation of good business.

"WHITE COAT" FOR KINGSTON.

While Kingston at present is not suffering from a coal famine, the present cold wave brings sharply to mind the lack of fuel in quantities such as caused no worry to the householders who could pay for a few years ago. Conditions now are different and even the possession of wealth does not insure an adequate supply of coal for the owner. Production, as everyone knows, has been curtailed. Positive statements that a broad stream are filled with loaded coal gondolas are not equally positive statements that no such sight has been witnessed in a day's travel. In the face of all other statements, the fact remains that coal is not available in large quantities in any of our big cities, and in our smaller communities. No adequate substitute for coal is in the market. The Catskill Mountains undoubtedly contain sufficient standing timber to supply the city for many weeks, but the trouble is that it is not available. For immediate results, a ton of coal in the cellar is worth an acre of standing timber on the topmost peak of the Catskill range.

Next to coal and wood, the most satisfactory heat is furnished by electricity, but the cost of current for general heating purposes, with the cost of electric heaters, is not only prohibitive but the amount of electric current generated in the county is entirely insufficient. Even the development now under way is inadequate to supply the city generally with sufficient current to enable residents to use it to heat their homes. Present development and that which is under way is intended to supply current for lighting and manufacturing purposes. There is ample water power now going to waste in Ulster county to generate enough electric current to make Kingston entirely independent of coal and wood flames and without doubt the generation now in its prime will witness at least the beginning of the development of water power for such purposes; the suggestion made some time ago will prove not to have been a Utopian dream. The American people have shown that in spite of unrestrained prodigality they are able to adapt and accustom themselves to remarkable and conspicuous changes, and so through necessity they will come to the use of substitutes for coal just as they have adopted substitutes for many other necessities. Necessary results in development. The development at first may be crude, as it has been in many lines since Germany precipitated her attempt at world conquest, but with the return of peace a discriminating public is likely to demand improvement unless such improvement already has come through usage and competition. The development of Ulster's natural resources for supplying electricity for heat as well as light and power probably will not come until after the war is ended but through the readjustment of economic conditions then it is bound to come.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

Dead men throw no fits. "Quiet After Assassination," says a headline.—Buffalo Express.

Teacher—"This makes four times I've had to punish you this week, Bobbie. What have you to say to that?" Bobbie—"I'm glad it's Friday, teacher."—Judge.

"It is unnecessary to go over all that ground. The principle is as old as the hills and has always been accepted by everybody." "Exactly. And that is just what makes me suspicious of it."—Life.

"Why don't you advise your boy to give up his football ambitions?" "I have advised him," replied Farmer Cornsloss. "I've almost prayed with him about it. It's the worst football player I ever saw."—Washington Star.

"Why do you yell so at pedestrians?" Yelling at 'em won't keep 'em from being run over. "I don't know about that," said the traffic cop. "I've known a good yell to lift 'em across the tracks and out of danger."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Caller—"Is it true, my dear, that your husband is very absent-minded?" Mrs. Newly—"Yes. We've been married six months, and many an evening at 11 he gets up, takes a pipe by the hand, tells me what a delightful time he has had and would leave if I didn't remind him."—Boston Transcript.

The Sewing Machine Agent rans the bell. A particularly noisy and vicious-looking bulldog assisted in opening the door. The dog stood his ground. The agent retreated slowly.

"Will that dog bite?" he asked. "We don't quite know yet," the lady said. "We have only just got him. But we are trying him on strangers. Won't you come in?"—Tit-Bits.

He Walked Enough. The doctor had listened to his patient's heart, taken a blood pressure, at short, made a thorough examination of his physical condition. Then he announced his verdict.

"What you want is to get more exercise, walk more regularly." "Well, doctor, I don't see how I can do that," answered the man. "I'm a postman."—Chicago Herald.

Might Cry Tears of Joy. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw said at a dinner in this city: "The idea that the voting woman is an advocate of childless marriage, anarchy, free love, atheism and so forth is a false idea, yet it is as popular among one kind of minds as—well, as the mother-in-law joke. You know, of course, the kind of joke I mean. The kind for example, that is told about the courtier. A courtier waited one morning for two hours, but the clerk did not turn up. They were about to open court without him when a boy rushed in and handed the judge a message. The judge read the message and seemed deeply affected. Then he announced: 'I have just received a message from our courtier saying, "Wife's mother passed away last night. Will not be able to cry today."'"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Dainty Cow.

It all originated at a small grocery store where they sold everything from sand to a pearl necklace. A farmer had come for some liniment to rub on his cow's leg. The bumbling grocer gave the old farmer, however, a bottle of cologne instead of liniment. The day following the farmer's cow, back in a rich pasture, looked like a cow. "Look here," he said, "I wish you'd be more careful how you check your stock. You have over the perfume yesterday instead of liniment."

Miss Herbert, the librarian, submitted the following report showing remarkable progress during 1917.

The report as recorded is as follows:

Annual Report for the Year 1917.

I have the honor to submit the following report of the year's work:

The necessity of books in war times is shown by the fact that in spite of the unusual demands on the time of most people the increase in the circulation was five per cent of the whole.

We gave out for home use $3,944 books which was 2,855 more than last year.

We have not kept statistics to show just how many of these books were directly about the war, but we have purchased all the war books we could afford with the money we had, and allowing for the just demands of other subjects. They have been placed where they are readily accessible and are extremely popular. The whole collection has gone out many times and certain books have a long waiting list of people anxious to read them. It is certainly important that everyone should know what this war means and why we are in it. With a larger book fund we could add to this war collection.

We have also kept in constant use a collection of books and pamphlets on cooking, canning and food conservation. During the canning season particularly these books were in great demand. Many pamphlets from the U. S. Department of Agriculture were given away.

Appeal slips and pamphlets about the Liberty Loan were also distributed.

We have collected and forwarded to the army camps and cantonments:

THE MAN WHO WILL BUILD NEW THEATER

Sketch of Frank A. Keeney, Who Will Erect New $100,000 Motion Picture Playhouse on Wall Street.

Frank A. Keeney, who is to erect a $100,000 theatre in Kingston, is in many respects a unique character. Inheriting large wealth, he has always buckled down to the hard business grind just as if he had to do it for a living. Whereas most successful theatrical men have started with the rudiments of the game and gradually acquired a knowledge of its large possibilities, Mr. Keeney broke in as a full-fledged manager. In spite of his great success in the specialized line of vaudeville entertainment, he has now launched a brand new enterprise on an entirely different tack, and will run both himself.

Most men who handle big things are deliberate in making their important decisions. Mr. Keeney makes his with lightning-like rapidity. It took only a quick inspection to convince him that Kingston was a live, enterprising community. Just the place for him to locate one of his new theaters. This conclusion reached, he at once gave orders for the purchase of a site.

If he didn't do things quickly, he could never have done so many things as he has placed to his credit during his comparatively brief career. The sole heir to his father's estate, he was left with many large interests on his hands. These were chiefly in the nature of investments. He had always been a believer that it is better to work with money for the promotion of new enterprises than to permit money in established enterprises to work for you. So he decided to use his large means to set something going. He chose the theatrical line and soon had a string of popular priced vaudeville houses successfully operating in different cities. The name "Keeney's," flashed on electric signs in front of his theaters, became a synonym for wholesome entertainment at prices within the reach of all.

His success became so great that his rivals got together and made a determined attempt to down him. But they didn't know their man. Opposition only spurred him on and his rivals were soon taught to know that any blow they aimed at him would be likely to re-act upon themselves. While the battle was on he made this characteristic comment:

"Nothing succeeds like success, and that is probably the reason why some of my opponents are paying more attention to my business than they are to their own."

Mr. Keeney has controlled or at present controls vaudeville houses in New York city, Brooklyn, Newark, N. J., Binghamton, N. Y., Rochester, N. Y., Schenectady, N. Y., Watertown, N. Y., Bridgeport, Ct., and New Britain, Ct. He is now starting a chain of moving picture houses, the first two to be located in Williamsport, Pa., and Kingston.

The announcement that Mr. Keeney is building a string of theaters at a time when the cost of labor and material are generally regarded as prohibitive for such enterprises has aroused surprised comment. Those who know him, however, are aware that he doesn't do things in a conventional way. Let him explain:

"The time to go, ahead is when other people are standing still. By and by they will catch up. I believe in America and I am an optimist."

It costs a lot of money nowadays to put a new film industry on its feet. Mr. Keeney has laid down a big bank roll for the use of the Frank A. Keeney Pictures Corporation, which he recently organized. Everything that has been done so far has been done in a high class manner. His new director, James Kirkwood, is one of the very best in the country. The amount of his salary is not announced, but it is safe to say that it is about as large as any director in the country ever received. Even before a contractor was engaged Mr. Keeney spent a large amount of money advertising his first star, Catherine Carter, the young and beautiful widow of the late Paul Armstrong, play-wright. A striking picture of her, flashed on 24 sheets in numerous locations on Manhattan Island and in Brooklyn, have made her literally "the talk of New York."

The products of the new motion picture concern, together with selections from the offerings of other big producers, will be shown at Mr. Keeney's Kingston house.

There were over fifty members and visitors in attendance, which included Mrs. George, past matron, and Mrs. Gerow, present matron of Revonah Chapter. This installation marked the 15th annual of Wawarsing Chapter and was altogether a very delightful affair.

Officer Frank C. LaPolt, of the New York Eastern Reformatory at Napanoch, was painfully injured while at work in the woods felling a tree in the woods of the Reformatory grounds Tuesday afternoon. As the tree fell to the ground, Mr. LaPolt by some misstep was held so the tree in falling struck him on the head, inflicting a serious wound. In the absence of the reformatory physician, Dr. Thayer, Dr. Rapp was summoned from Ellenville and was obliged to take several stitches in the injured man's head. After the wound was dressed, Officer LaPolt was brought to his home on North Main street, Ellenville, where he is resting comfortably.

William Booth, Jr., an employee of the Uster Knife Works, has been confined to his home on Park street the past week with a severe cold, threatened with pneumonia, but is much better at this writing.

William Volley and his sister, Miss Edna, went to Newburgh on the West Shore train last Friday.

During the severe cold snap the Standard oil burned badly in the lamps and oil stores here. A hard crust was formed on the wick which had to be trimmed every morning or the lamp issued smoke and the blaze flickered. Since warmer weather has come the oil burns better.

Dance Well Attended.

The complimentary dance and reception given Wednesday evening by the Primrose Athletic Club was a decided success. A large crowd enjoyed tripping the light fantastic to the strains of Steve Miller's orchestra. Refreshments were served.

Question of Certainty.

"Quite a number of persons here asked me of late if my niece is going to marry a certain young man," said the Old Coder. "I have been obliged to tell them that she is and she isn't. You see, while she is certain that she is going to marry him, he will be an uncertain young man until after it has happened to him."

Following are the names of Red Cross members secured in the town of Waycross by the campaign committee of that town of which C. Dwight Davis was the chairman:

MAJOR LAMB SPOKE ON SELLING BOOZE

Calls Rotary Club's Attention to Altered Selling to New York Guardsmen at Hotel Curry—(Over Takes) Action.

Major Lamb, who is in charge of the New York Guard going duty at New Paltz, gave an interesting talk before the Rotary Club at its mid-week dinner Wednesday. One of the things discussed at length by Major Lamb was the alleged selling of booze to the men under his command, and he particularly referred to Hotel Curry on Wall street. Major Lamb was zealous in having the Rotary Club create public opinion to have places selling booze to soldiers abolished. If there was no law an effort should be made to protect the guardsmen. He said the law regarding the selling of liquor only covered the federalized troops, and that the claim was made it was not allowing for hotel keepers to sell to the guardsmen on duty along the aqueduct.

At the close of Major Lamb's talk the Rotary Club pledged its moral support, and appointed a committee to work at collecting existing evils if possible.

Physical Director L. C. Corbrey of the local Y. M. C. A. also gave an interesting talk on "Keeping Physically Fit."

Thomas W. Flammie was elected a director of the club to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. Frank Keator.

The Rotary Clubs of the second district will hold a conference at Newark, N. J., February 22 and 23, and the local club will be represented by a delegation.

February 25, International President E. Leslie Plagerson of Winnipeg, Canada, will be the guest of the Kingston Rotary Club and will deliver an address. At that time the Newburgh Rotary Club will also be the guests of the local club.

A., Kingston, recently, and the net profits were $128. That certainly speaks well of the play, does it not? Admission 25 cents. (Children 15 cent.). To Repeat Successful Play.

The merit of the three act comedy, "Won by Wireless," recently given by the "Winners" Class of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Sunday school, has again attracted the attention of the local theatrical critics and this time is to be given by the original cast in the chapel of the First Reformed Church, Wednesday evening, January 16. The only change in program from the original production will be a substitution of one specialty act, "Abe" Van Aken having been called to the colors. It will be a hard matter to fill "Abe's" place, but the promoters will have something new as a feature. Miss Deatrice Freer, the talented soprano, will be billed for at least one act and those who have had the opportunity of hearing her will certainly avail themselves again at this most opportune time. Don't forget the date and secure your tickets now either of members of the school or at William S. Eltinge's drug store on John street. Tickets already sold assure a packed house. The benefit will go toward swelling the budget being raised for the various war funds by the classes of the Sunday school.

INISTORY TOLD IN MOVIES.

"Fall of the Romanoffs." Showing Russian Revolution.

What the motion picture machine has been unable to record of actual world happenings of momentous character has been enacted for its benefit by actors and actresses whose clever delineation of famous events often is praised by observers of the events themselves for its singular accuracy of detail. Among the motion picture productions thus recognized is Herbert Brennon's "The Fall of the Romanoffs," which will be presented at the Kingston Opera House on Friday and Saturday, one matinee and one evening performance being given each day. The story deals with the rise of Rasputin, the mad monk who was known as the Sacred Devil of Russia. Rasputin's life history was familiar in America long before his assassination about the time that Czar Nicholas abdicated the Russian throne. To make the picture more realistic, the events of the revolution, at the Czar's Winter Palace and among the populace of Petrograd are also shown with such fidelity to detail as to bring the highest praise from critics who witnessed the exciting events.

UNIVERSAL WILL REOPEN.

Popular Auto Supply Concern to Continue in Business.

A meeting of creditors of the Universal Tire & Rubber Company, which recently made a general assignment for the benefit of creditors, was held at Poughkeepsie on Wednesday, when it was tentatively decided by creditors that the company should resume business on February 1st in this city and at Poughkeepsie, but that the Troy store, which has proved unprofitable, should be closed. Both the Kingston and the Troy stores have been most successful since their opening, but the store at Troy, which opened late in the season, is said to have been overstocked and not to have transacted sufficient business to make it a paying proposition, at least for the present. A meeting of stockholders of the company, of whom there are many in Kingston, will be held in Poughkeepsie next Monday.
